

Community Online™

NetAlter Software Ltd. has developed this software keeping into mind the unique requirement of community groups (samaj and mandals) in India.

The Community Online™ web portal is also an effective medium to offer paid services so as to recover the cost of maintaining the services.

Following is the list of the features available in Community Online™.

Family – This facility enables the head of family to add, modify and delete details of his family as well as his family members. Additional features such View family, Simple Search, Advance Search add interactivity between families.

Matrimonial – Using this facility, the member or user can register himself/herself for matrimonial services. This service enables members to find a matching life-partner within their community and located all over the world. As this facility is interlinked with the “Family” section, it permits all listed members of a family to directly register for the matrimonial facility.

Jobs – This facility is an interactive tool for employer, employee or business associates to search for jobs/openings/vacancy on the community site. Employers can very easily interact with job seekers by posting their requirement or job description, viewing resume logs and selecting candidates.

Job Seekers can list their resume, view vacancies, maintain Job logs and instantly know when they are selected by prospective employers.

Business Associates can list their business details, view the business logs and instantly know when their services are selected.

Directory – This section maintains all records of members’ who belongs to the same community and who all are registered with the community site. The Directory Section functions as a Community Database Directory maintaining the following information:

- Update business details
- List phone & contact numbers
- Create new committee, add committee members and manage committee

News - This facility is a forum for exchanging related public messages across the Internet and can be organized into topic-related newsgroups to which interested members can subscribe.

Classifieds – This facility offers the most advanced features needed to create and manage a classifieds section on your community website. These are primarily very short text advertisements organized by the category. Members of the community can search and view the classifieds using the advanced search tool.

Community Online™ Features

Announcements - In this section, members can broadcast to the community events such as birthday, anniversary, marriage, obituary, remembrance and others.

Events - This section enables members to know about the most happening events in the community and also search for past events. Interested members can post the details of a new event they are organizing for the community people.

Help - This facility has two sections. One section can be used by needy people of the community to access financial, medical, or other types of contributions. The other section enables members of the community to contribute resources in cash or kind for needy members.

Branches - This section lists out the locations of different branches of the community all over the country and overseas.

Opinion Polls – The community can find out the response of its members by posting an opinion poll with regards to the popularity of the site and its facilities. A poll can also help find out the general mood in a community with regards to a social issue.

Links – This section provide members with access to other sites or information about their community.
